

-Verbs are doing words while auxiliary verbs are helping verbs.

-Verbs can be divided into two main groups: Main verbs and auxiliaries verbs...Main verbs state actions eg: play, sleep, eat, dance, run, etc

-Auxiliary verbs also called helping verbs, help in indicating the time when an action takes place.

They also give the tense of the said actions.

-Auxiliary verbs help main verbs to perform their functions in a sentence in forming tense and asking questions.

-Auxiliary verbs examples are on the table below.

Have, has, do and be (am, is, are) are the only auxiliary verbs that can also function as main verbs eg.. I am here, She has had a bad day.

He did his work diligently

-Verbs in the past participle form must always be accompanied by helping verbs has, had and have.

Eg She has come for the meeting.

The pronouns I and you will always take present perfect tense have and had for past perfect tense

-Functions of auxiliary verbs can also be seen in the types of sentences we have

-Declaratives (statements) eg He was the best student., imperatives (commands) Everyone must attend school.

-Interrogative (questions) Is the ambulance coming?

SLE PG 85 USE OF AUXILIARY VERBS

1. Have you seen the pilot and the crew after the plane crash?
2. Have several victims disabled after the disaster?
3. Have the rescue team succeed in the rescue mission?
4. Have the plane already airborne when one of the engines stopped working?
5. Have the terrorists surrender himself to the police.
6. Have the pilot aware of the engine default?
7. Have they evacuate all the people from the building when the bomb blasted?
8. Have the firefighters well-equipped to stop the raging fire?
9. Have the injured rushed to hospital?
10. Have the public been informed of the latest developments in the search efforts?

Correction

2. Were several victims disabled after the disaster?

3. Have the rescue team succeed in the rescue mission?
4. Did the plane already airborne when one of the engines stopped working
5. Did the terrorists surrender himself to the police.
6. Was the pilot aware of the engine default?
7. Did they evacuate all the people from the building when the bomb blasted?
8. Are the firefighters well-equipped to stop the raging fire?
9. Were the injured rushed to hospital.
10. Are the public been informed of the latest development in the search efforts?