

SLE PG 64-68 EX II: NEW LIBRARY

1. Official opening of the new library.
2. A person who is in charge of a library.
3. In their classrooms.
4. Encyclopaedias and dictionaries.
5. Sleep during library lessons.
6. Arrange books, Make sure pupils obey library rules, and show pupils around the library.
7. Social media are websites that you can communicate with family or friends and they are prohibited because they can lead to bad morals.
8. The difference is that in the general section, you can borrow it for two weeks while the reserve can only be taken for three days.
9. It is important to have library rules so that the pupils know what is write to do in the library.
10. One is able to know if a book is available in the library by it's index number.

CORRECTIONS

6. The various duties of the librarian would be involved requesting of library materials, receiving new materials, making entries into the ledgers, file copies of delivery notes, make the materials ready for the library users and teach the users how to make the most of the library.

8. The difference between the textbooks in the reserve section and those in the general section is in the reserve section, they are very popular and have a great demand. On the other hand, the textbooks in the general section have a lot of copies and their not at great demand.

9. It is important to have library rules so that the pupils know what they should not do or bring in the library.